SECTION ONE: AUGUSTUS

Answer ONE of the following three questions.

EITHER

1 Read the passage below, and answer the questions which follow:

Eventually Augustus broke his friendship with Mark Antony, which had always been a tenuous one and in continuous need of patching; and sought to prove that his rival had failed to conduct himself as befitted a Roman citizen, by ordering the will he had deposited at Rome to be opened and publicly read. It listed among Antony's heirs the children fathered by him on Cleopatra. Nevertheless, when the Senate outlawed Antony, Augustus allowed all his relatives and friends to join him, including Gaius Sosius and Titus Domitius, the Consuls of the year. He also excused Bononia, a city traditionally dependent on the Antonian family, from rallying to his side as the rest of Italy was doing. Presently he defeated Antony in a sea-battle off Actium, where the fighting went on so long that he spent the whole night aboard his flagship. 5 10

(Suetonius, The Life of the Divine Augustus 17)

SECTION TWO: VIRGIL

Answer ONE of the following three questions.

EITHER

4 Read the passage below, and answer the questions which follow:

The whole throng of the dead was rushing to this part of the bank, mothers, men, great-hearted heroes whose lives were ended, boys, unmarried girls and young men laid on the pyre before the faces of their parents, as many as are the leaves that fall in the forest at the first chill of autumn, as many as the birds that flock to land from deep ocean when the cold season of the year drives them over the sea to lands bathed in sun. There they stood begging to be allowed to be the first to cross and stretching out their arms in longing for the further shore. But the grim boatman takes some here and some there, and others he pushes away far back from the sandy shore.

5

Aeneas, amazed and distressed by all this tumult, cried out: 'Tell me, virgin priestess, what is the meaning of this crowding to the river? What do the spirits want? Why are some pushed away from the bank while others sweep the livid water with their oars?'

10

(Virgil, Aeneid 6)

- (i) Whom does Aeneas want to visit in the Underworld? [1]
- (ii) Look at the similes 'as many as ... bathed in sun' (lines 3–6). Explain three points of similarity between the similes and the scene they are intended to illustrate. [6]
- (iii) 'There they stood begging to be allowed to be the first to cross ...' (line 6). What is the name of the river they are hoping to cross? [1]
- (iv) What is the name of the 'boatman' referred to in line 7? [1]
- (v) Why does the boatman push some souls away from the shore (line 8)? [1]

[Total: 25]

OR

OR

6 To what extent do you think that Augustus and the Roman Empire are praised in the books of the Aeneid which you have studied? [25]

SECTION THREE: JUVENAL

Answer ONE of the following three questions.

EITHER

7 Read the passage below, and answer the questions which follow:

Motion carried – and worthy of such a proposer. He'd known the old Imperial Court and its luxuries, Nero's midnight banquets that kindled new appetites, when veins were on fire with vintage wine. No man in my time was a greater gourmet: he knew, and could tell you, at the very first bite, just where an oyster came from – whether it was raised in Circeii, the Lucrine pond, or the sea-beds of Richborough: the lowly sea-urchin he placed with a single glance. 5

All rose. The meeting was over, the Councillors dismissed. Yet their mighty master had sent an emergency summons which brought them post-haste, and panic-struck, to his castle, as though with news of the Rhinelanders, or the ferocious Prussians; anxious dispatches might have been pouring in, on precipitate wing, from all parts of the empire. 10

Yet would that he'd rather devoted all his savage instincts to such trifles! He robbed Rome of her most illustrious and noblest sons, unopposed. No hand was raised to avenge them. He could welter in Lamian blood. 15

(Juvenal, Satire 4)

- (i) 'Motion carried – and worthy of such a proposer' (line 1). What was the name of the proposer and what had he suggested? [3]
- (ii) What was the name of their 'mighty master' (line 10)? [1]
- (iii) From this passage, find three examples of Juvenal's satiric technique. Write out the example, identify the technique and explain its effect. [6]
- (iv) Using this passage as a starting point, discuss the different ways in which Juvenal depicts emperors in his Satires. [15]

[Total: 25]

OR

8 'All Juvenal does is criticise.' To what extent do you think that this is true of the Satires you have studied? [25]

OR

9 Explain to what extent you think Satire 1 is a successful satire. [25]
