

Cambridge International AS & A Level

GLOBAL PERSPECTIVES & RESEARCH

9239/11

Paper 1 Written Exam

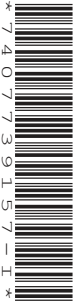

October/November 2023

INSERT

1 hour 30 minutes

INFORMATION

- This insert contains all the resources referred to in the questions.
- You may annotate this insert and use the blank spaces for planning. Do not write your answers on the insert.

This document has 4 pages. Any blank pages are indicated.

The following documents consider issues related to political power and resistance. Read them both in order to answer all the questions on the paper.

Document A: adapted from Behind Latin America's protests, a fading faith in democracy, an article written by Whitney Eulich, published in 'Christian Science Monitor' (US), in 2020. The author is their Latin America editor, based in Mexico. She oversees regional coverage for 'Christian Science Monitor' magazine. She has a Master's Degree from Columbia University's 'School of International and Public Affairs' (US), with a focus on human rights, Latin America, and conflict resolution.

Drums pound in a crowded plaza in downtown Santiago, Chile.

Content removed due to copyright restrictions.

How leaders listen to public frustrations or react to protesters could determine the next chapter of democracy in Latin America.

Document B: adapted from 'Do Protests Even Work? It sometimes takes decades to find out', an article written by Zeynep Tufekci, published in 'The Atlantic' in 2020. The author is a contributing writer at The Atlantic and an associate professor at the University of North Carolina (US). She studies the interaction between digital technology, artificial intelligence, and society.

The United States is witnessing one of the broadest and most sustained waves of protest in decades.

Content removed due to copyright restrictions.

And perhaps that's the most powerful means by which protest works: when the cause is so powerful that the protesters don't calculate whether it works or not, but feel morally compelled to show up and be counted.

BLANK PAGE

Permission to reproduce items where third-party owned material protected by copyright is included has been sought and cleared where possible. Every reasonable effort has been made by the publisher (UCLES) to trace copyright holders, but if any items requiring clearance have unwittingly been included, the publisher will be pleased to make amends at the earliest possible opportunity.

To avoid the issue of disclosure of answer-related information to candidates, all copyright acknowledgements are reproduced online in the Cambridge Assessment International Education Copyright Acknowledgements Booklet. This is produced for each series of examinations and is freely available to download at www.cambridgeinternational.org after the live examination series.

Cambridge Assessment International Education is part of Cambridge Assessment. Cambridge Assessment is the brand name of the University of Cambridge Local Examinations Syndicate (UCLES), which is a department of the University of Cambridge.