

MARK SCHEME for the May/June 2008 question paper

9395 TRAVEL AND TOURISM

9395/01

Paper 1 (Core Paper), maximum raw mark 100

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began.

All Examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated.

Mark schemes must be read in conjunction with the question papers and the report on the examination.

- CIE will not enter into discussions or correspondence in connection with these mark schemes.

CIE is publishing the mark schemes for the May/June 2008 question papers for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level syllabuses and some Ordinary Level syllabuses.

(e)	“Around 50% of Cuba’s hotel room capacity is managed and marketed by foreign companies”. Evaluate the social and economic impacts that may result from this situation. This is quite an open question and impacts are a familiar topic. They are free to explore social and/or economic from either positive and/or negative impact perspectives but there should be clear mention of both for Level 3. The quality of the assessment is more important. The syllabus gives emphasis to the following impacts, but all valid social and economic impacts are to be credited: <table border="1" data-bbox="268 633 1160 1160"> <thead> <tr> <th data-bbox="268 633 715 674">Positive</th> <th data-bbox="715 633 1160 674">Negative</th> </tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td data-bbox="268 674 715 1160"> <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • increased incomes; • increased foreign exchange; • increased employment; • improved infrastructure; • multiplier effect; • aiding of international understanding; • encourages travel, mobility and social integration. </td> <td data-bbox="715 674 1160 1160"> <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • decline of traditional employment opportunities; • seasonality of employment; • increased living costs; • leakages; • increased taxes; • conflicts with the host community; • crime; • Demonstration Effect; • changes to family structure; • social problems, such as begging and prostitution. </td> </tr> </tbody> </table> Use level of response criteria Level 1 (1–3 marks) will identify up to three appropriate types of socio-economic impact, providing some detail but will be mainly descriptive. Level 2 (4–6 marks) can be awarded for an analysis of selected impacts and we should expect an appropriate treatment, indicating positive or negative aspects, of at least two of these for the higher marks. Level 3 (7–9 marks) can be awarded for evaluative comment about the types of socio-economic impact that result from this foreign ownership. The better answers will have a reasoned conclusion and most will probably view the situation as good economically and less good socially.	Positive	Negative	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • increased incomes; • increased foreign exchange; • increased employment; • improved infrastructure; • multiplier effect; • aiding of international understanding; • encourages travel, mobility and social integration. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • decline of traditional employment opportunities; • seasonality of employment; • increased living costs; • leakages; • increased taxes; • conflicts with the host community; • crime; • Demonstration Effect; • changes to family structure; • social problems, such as begging and prostitution. 	9 2.2	AO1 (3) AO3 (3) AO4 (3)

4 (a)	State the meaning of each of the following terms: (i) domestic arrival One mark for idea of travel within own country (ii) international arrival One mark for idea of travel outside own country (iii) visitor expenditure. One mark for idea of amount spent.	3	1.1 1.2	AO1
(b)	Identify each of the following: (i) the average length of stay for Japanese visitors in July 2006 One mark for 5.69 (ii) the number of Canadians visiting in the year to July 2006 One mark for 166,912 (iii) the number of domestic arrivals in July 2006. One mark for 529,369	3	1.2	AO2
(c)	Fig. 4 shows changes in visitor numbers to Hawaii between 2005 and 2006. Explain two reasons why trends in visitor numbers to any destination may change over time. Award one mark for each of two valid identifications of reasons and a further one mark for an appropriate explanation of each. Most should suggest external factors and correct ideas in this particular context include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Currency fluctuations (1) – $ versus Yen and costs (1) • Natural disasters (1) – Tsunami and volcanic activity threats (1) • Terrorism (1) – USA at risk (1) Credit all valid reasoning including ideas of competition, changing tastes etc.	4	1.2 1.3	AO2 (2) AO3 (2)
(d)	With reference to Fig. 4, discuss why Hawaii may be placed at the stagnation stage of the Butler Model. This requires some interpretation of data in Fig. 4 and knowledge of the Butler model. Candidates will probably agree with the suggestion and we require a reasoned conclusion for top level 3. Use level of response criteria Level 1 (1–2 marks) will identify appropriate types of data to provide some detail about volumes slowing – indicative of marked consolidation. Level 2 (3–4 marks) can be awarded for an analysis of selected data to indicate a trend and we should expect an appropriate treatment of at least one set of data for the higher marks. Level 3 (5–6 marks) can be awarded for evaluative comment about whether stagnation or rejuvenation appears to be taking place. The better answers must have a reasoned conclusion.	6	2.3	AO2 (2) AO3 (2) AO4 (2)

(e)	With reference to examples with which you are familiar, evaluate the major threats that exist to the continued growth of international travel. This leads on nicely from 4(c). This is very topical and invites the candidate to consider and evaluate the main threats not only to international travel and can include particular at-risk destinations. The WTO give emphasis to the following threats: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Terrorism • Natural disasters • Health scares • Oil price rises • Economic and political uncertainties. However, candidates can validly consider any combination of the following as well: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Rising costs of accommodation, transport and destination costs • Over-commercialisation • Crime and social problems • Negative media coverage • Negative tourism management • Water, air and noise hazards Better candidates may well recognise that the above sets of factors operate at different Geographical scales, the former being global while the latter are national/regional. Use level of response criteria Level 1 (1–3 marks) candidates apply only limited knowledge and understanding and answers will be descriptive of types of threats in particular destinations, thus obtaining credit for the identification of three appropriate examples. Level 2 (4–6 marks) candidates apply some of their knowledge and understanding and will clearly attempt an analysis of key threats and indicate the types of impact that might result within particular destinations. Level 3 (7–9 marks) candidates offer a clear evaluation of two or more valid threats, pointing out that their significance varies with scale of operation. There will be some comment about destination arrivals both at present and in the future. We should expect valid reasoned conclusion(s) for the higher marks.	9	1.3 2.3	AO1 (3) AO3 (3) AO4 (3)
