Paper 1 The Industry

October/November 2021

MARK SCHEME

Maximum Mark: 100

---

Published

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge International will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge International is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2021 series for most Cambridge IGCSE™, Cambridge International A and AS Level components and some Cambridge O Level components.

This document consists of 13 printed pages.

Generic Marking Principles

These general marking principles must be applied by all examiners when marking candidate answers. They should be applied alongside the specific content of the mark scheme or generic level descriptors for a question. Each question paper and mark scheme will also comply with these marking principles.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 1:

Marks must be awarded in line with:

- the specific content of the mark scheme or the generic level descriptors for the question
- the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the generic level descriptors for the question
- the standard of response required by a candidate as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 2:

Marks awarded are always whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 3:

Marks must be awarded positively:

- marks are awarded for correct/valid answers, as defined in the mark scheme. However, credit is given for valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme, referring to your Team Leader as appropriate
- marks are awarded when candidates clearly demonstrate what they know and can do
- marks are not deducted for errors
- marks are not deducted for omissions
- answers should only be judged on the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar when these features are specifically assessed by the question as indicated by the mark scheme. The meaning, however, should be unambiguous.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 4:

Rules must be applied consistently, e.g. in situations where candidates have not followed instructions or in the application of generic level descriptors.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 5:

Marks should be awarded using the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme for the question (however; the use of the full mark range may be limited according to the quality of the candidate responses seen).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 6:

Marks awarded are based solely on the requirements as defined in the mark scheme. Marks should not be awarded with grade thresholds or grade descriptors in mind.

Social Science-Specific Marking Principles (for point-based marking)*1 Components using point-based marking:

- Point marking is often used to reward knowledge, understanding and application of skills. We give credit where the candidate's answer shows relevant knowledge, understanding and application of skills in answering the question. We do not give credit where the answer shows confusion.

From this it follows that we:

- a DO credit answers which are worded differently from the mark scheme if they clearly convey the same meaning (unless the mark scheme requires a specific term)
- b DO credit alternative answers/examples which are not written in the mark scheme if they are correct
- c DO credit answers where candidates give more than one correct answer in one prompt/numbered/scaffolded space where extended writing is required rather than list-type answers. For example, questions that require  $n$  reasons (e.g. State two reasons ...).
- d DO NOT credit answers simply for using a 'key term' unless that is all that is required. (Check for evidence it is understood and not used wrongly.)
- e DO NOT credit answers which are obviously self-contradicting or trying to cover all possibilities
- f DO NOT give further credit for what is effectively repetition of a correct point already credited unless the language itself is being tested. This applies equally to 'mirror statements' (i.e. polluted/not polluted).
- g DO NOT require spellings to be correct, unless this is part of the test. However spellings of syllabus terms must allow for clear and unambiguous separation from other syllabus terms with which they may be confused (e.g. Corrasion/Corrosion)

2 Presentation of mark scheme:

- Slashes (/) or the word 'or' separate alternative ways of making the same point.
- Semi colons (;) bullet points (•) or figures in brackets (1) separate different points.
- Content in the answer column in brackets is for examiner information/context to clarify the marking but is not required to earn the mark (except Accounting syllabuses where they indicate negative numbers).

3 Annotation:

- For point marking, ticks can be used to indicate correct answers and crosses can be used to indicate wrong answers. There is no direct relationship between ticks and marks. Ticks have no defined meaning for levels of response marking.
- For levels of response marking, the level awarded should be annotated on the script.
- Other annotations will be used by examiners as agreed during standardisation, and the meaning will be understood by all examiners who marked that paper.

Question	Answer	Marks
1(d)	Discuss the importance of social media to a tourist destination. Indicative content:            With the development of the internet and increasing use of tablets and mobile phones most people are able to access all forms of social media on a very regular basis.            Access is free and instant – it is a quick and cheap method of getting a message out or advertising a destination.            Other visitors may leave comments which can influence the opinions and actions of other potential visitors. If the comments are good then it is useful free advertising. Bad comments can be left, but the use of social media allows the organisation to respond quickly to negative comments which may have a good value in the long run.            Use of social media allows a more individual, targeted approach. Other relevant information should also be credited. Mark according to the levels of response criteria below. Level 3 (7–9 marks)            Candidates will show a clear understanding of the question and include detailed identification and discussion of the importance of social media to a tourist destination. Candidates will effectively discuss a range of points and may attempt to evaluate their significance. There is sound and frequent evidence of thorough, detailed and accurate knowledge and understanding of the factors with the use of appropriate terminology. Level 2 (4–6 marks)            Candidates will show an understanding of the question and include explanations of the importance of social media to a tourist destination. When explaining or offering comments, candidates clearly indicate the impacts. The answer is relevant and accurate and shows reasonable knowledge and understanding with some use of appropriate terminology. Level 1 (1–3 marks)            Candidates identify/describe some ways in which tourist destinations may use social media. Information may be a list of points but explanations are incomplete and lack coherence, there is little or no attempt to discuss. The answer is basic and shows limited knowledge and understanding of concepts with limited use of appropriate terminology. Level 0 (0 marks)            No rewardable content.	9

Question	Answer	Marks
3(d)	Discuss the possible impacts on tourism if the cost / quality ratio of products is changed. Indicative content:            The cost / quality ratio refers to the relationship between the actual costs of providing the experience and the visitors perception of value for money. It can be altered in a number of ways to provide a more expensive or up-market experience. For example, by charging more and altering the accommodation or experiences included or by reducing costs and trying to attract a different range/type of customer.            This is usually done in order to get as many visitors as possible and to make as much money as possible.            It can therefore encourage more tourists and develop tourism in more areas or it can reduce numbers as some types of tourists could be put off visiting if the market is expanded. Other relevant information should also be credited. Mark according to the levels of response criteria shown below. Level 3 (7–9 marks)            Candidates will show a clear understanding of the question and include detailed identification and discussion of the ways that changes to the cost/quality ratio can impact tourism in a destination. It can be motivational and spur employees on to work harder which is beneficial for the organisation which will then gain a good reputation and it will gain business and profit.
