MARK SCHEME

Maximum Mark: 80

---

Published

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge International will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge International is publishing the mark schemes for the May/June 2021 series for most Cambridge IGCSE™, Cambridge International A and AS Level components and some Cambridge O Level components.

This document consists of 21 printed pages.

Generic Marking Principles

These general marking principles must be applied by all examiners when marking candidate answers. They should be applied alongside the specific content of the mark scheme or generic level descriptors for a question. Each question paper and mark scheme will also comply with these marking principles.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 1:

Marks must be awarded in line with:

- the specific content of the mark scheme or the generic level descriptors for the question
- the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the generic level descriptors for the question
- the standard of response required by a candidate as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 2:

Marks awarded are always whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 3:

Marks must be awarded positively:

- marks are awarded for correct/valid answers, as defined in the mark scheme. However, credit is given for valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme, referring to your Team Leader as appropriate
- marks are awarded when candidates clearly demonstrate what they know and can do
- marks are not deducted for errors
- marks are not deducted for omissions
- answers should only be judged on the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar when these features are specifically assessed by the question as indicated by the mark scheme. The meaning, however, should be unambiguous.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 4:

Rules must be applied consistently, e.g. in situations where candidates have not followed instructions or in the application of generic level descriptors.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 5:

Marks should be awarded using the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme for the question (however; the use of the full mark range may be limited according to the quality of the candidate responses seen).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 6:

Marks awarded are based solely on the requirements as defined in the mark scheme. Marks should not be awarded with grade thresholds or grade descriptors in mind.

English & Media subject specific general marking principles
(To be read in conjunction with the Generic Marking Principles (and requiring further guidance on how to place marks within levels))

Components using level descriptors:

- We use level descriptors as a guide to broad understanding of the qualities normally expected of, or typical of, work in a level.
- Level descriptors are a means of general guidance, and should not be interpreted as hurdle statements.
- Where indicative content notes are supplied for a question, these are not a prescription of required content, and must not be treated as such. Alternative correct points and unexpected answers in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the knowledge and skills demonstrated.
- While we may have legitimate expectations as to the ground most answers may occupy, we must at all times be prepared to meet candidates on their chosen ground, provided it is relevant ground (e.g. clearly related to and derived from a relevant passage/text and meeting the mark scheme requirements for the question).

Components using point-based marking:

Point marking is often used to reward knowledge, understanding and application of skills. We give credit where the candidate's answer shows relevant knowledge, understanding and application of skills in answering the question. We do not give credit where the answer shows confusion.

From this it follows that we:

- a DO credit answers which are worded differently from the mark scheme if they clearly convey the same meaning (unless the mark scheme requires a specific term).
- b DO credit alternative answers/examples which are not written in the mark scheme if they are correct.
- c DO credit answers where candidates give more than one correct answer in one prompt/numbered/scaffolded space where extended writing is required rather than list-type answers. For example, questions that require n reasons (e.g. State two reasons...).
- d DO NOT credit answers simply for using a 'key term' unless that is all that is required. (Check for evidence it is understood and not used wrongly.).
- e DO NOT credit answers which are obviously self-contradicting or trying to cover all possibilities.
- f DO NOT give further credit for what is effectively repetition of a correct point already credited unless the language itself is being tested. This applies equally to 'mirror statements' (i.e. polluted/not polluted).
- g DO NOT require spellings to be correct unless this is part of the test. However, spellings of syllabus terms must allow for clear and unambiguous separation from other syllabus terms with which they may be confused (e.g. Corrasion/Corrosion).

Note: All examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated. Nonetheless, the content must be clearly related to and derived from the texts.

Do not deduct marks for inaccurate statements; simply ignore them. The following notes are a guide to what good responses might say about the selections. Candidates can make any sensible comment, but only credit those that are relevant to the correct meanings of the words in the context and that have some validity. Alternative acceptable explanations should be credited. Credit comments on effects created by non-vocabulary choices such as grammar / syntax and punctuation devices. These must be additional to comments on vocabulary.	15

Question	Answer	Marks
2(d)	Responses might use the following: Paragraph 1 begins ‘Base emitted ...’ and is about the narrator’s first impressions of the base station in Antarctica. Overview: pure vast emptiness of the epic landscape; awe-inspiring and intimidating <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• emitted a hushed grandeur: quiet, still, gives out a signal, broadcasts a powerful sense of silence and stillness, awe and reverence for the place, secretive</li> <li>• as if a vault door had been closed, all noise guarded fiercely behind it: sound of the world seems to have been muffled, disorientating effect of being both locked in and locked out, threat from the noise outside</li> <li>• a gunshot-like crack echoed through the air: unexpected loud sound, shock of the sudden noise, violence of the noise</li> <li>• roar like a distant waterfall: huge noise of a flow of water, powerful, though a long way off can be heard, unstoppable and inevitable threat of disaster</li> <li>• (another) chunk of the ice shelf collapsed into the bay: huge piece of ice has broken off, final and brutal, part of an ongoing pattern, the place is literally breaking up and disintegrating</li> <li>• rough squawks of skuas were magnified through the telescope of empty dry air: calls of birds seem louder as there is little else there, notice them more, realise their importance when there is nothing to detract</li> <li>• no smells of soil, trees, nor grass: completely empty landscape, there’s nowhere to hide, nothing growing, barren, reminiscent of the moon or another planet</li> <li>• scent of Antarctica: as if an animal, a creature being hunted</li> <li>• like two stones rubbed together. Flint: the spark to start the fire, sense of imminent destruction; effect of human actions on the planet</li> </ul> Only credit comments on stylistic effect where these are explicitly linked to choices.

Question	Answer	Marks
2(d)	Responses might use the following: Paragraph 13 begins ‘Around us ...’ and is about the arrival of winter in Antarctica Overview: inevitable, unstoppable force of winter approaching <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• (around us) the world was hardening: water freezing and solidifying, becoming more hostile</li> <li>• started as ice flowers, tiny crystal formations: delicate, fragile patterns in frozen water, beautiful</li> <li>• creeping carpet of flowers knitted together: gradually being covered by ice; individual crystals float to the surface, accumulate and bond together, sense of magical or living force</li> <li>• soaked by seawater: contrasts with the beauty of initial images, suggests heavy and cold, deadening effect on emotions</li> <li>• grey gruel, thickening into porridge: unappetising, gloopy substance, reminiscent of prison</li> <li>• temperatures plummeted: became suddenly very cold, breathtaking drop in temperature</li> <li>• (porridge-ice) welded itself together like steel grinding: change of state from liquid to solid is complete, ice is hard and powerful, metallic sound, industrial</li> <li>• gathering darkness: long difficult winter ahead, brooding menace</li> <li>• continent was closing in on itself, locking itself in: imprisoned by winter, natural process, shutting the rest of the world out</li> </ul> Only credit comments on stylistic effect where these are explicitly linked to choices.
