Tourist Information Centres

The role of Tourist Information Centres (TICs) has changed over the past 10 years, becoming more of an experience telling the story of the destination or brand they represent. They now offer mobile apps, 24-hour touch screen information points and have social media pages.

TICs are found worldwide and are experts on the local area and the best source of information to get the most out of your visit. Staff have in-depth knowledge of the area and can help with bookings, tips of the best places to visit and even where to find the newest boutique shop.

TICs are visited by many different types of customers, business or leisure tourists, those with specific needs and special interests.

Customers can visit in person, talk on the phone or visit their website. TICs can even help you with information on the whole country.
