MARK SCHEME

Maximum Mark: 50

Published

This mark scheme contains the instructions and marking guidance that our examiners used to mark candidate responses for this component.

Before they start marking, examiners complete a standardisation process. They review a range of candidate responses and discuss the mark scheme in detail to agree which answers can and cannot be accepted. Examiners award marks where it is clear that candidate responses have met the requirements of the mark scheme. These requirements may vary between different components or different versions of the same component, depending on the exact requirements of the question and the candidate responses seen during the standardisation process.

Sometimes, our mark schemes may allow marks to be awarded to responses which contain elements that are factually incorrect or for content not covered by the syllabus. We do this in response to the demands of a specific question to support candidates and make sure that our assessments are fair. However, these allowances should not be used as a guide for teaching and learning.

We cannot discuss the mark scheme with schools, and we recommend that schools read the mark scheme together with the assessment material and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

General marking principles

All examiners must apply these marking principles when marking candidate responses.

1	Examiners must award marks for each response in line with: • the specific content defined in the mark scheme • the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the level descriptions • the standard of response required as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.
2	Examiners must award whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).
3	Examiners must award marks positively. This means that: • marks are not deducted for errors or omissions • marks are awarded for correct/valid answers as defined in the mark scheme and also for other valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme referring to your team leader as appropriate • the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar are judged only when the mark scheme indicates that these features are specifically assessed in the question. However, the meaning of all responses must be unambiguous.
4	Examiners must consistently apply the requirements of the mark scheme and any rules for what to do when candidates have not followed instructions correctly.
5	Examiners must use the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme, unless limited by the quality of the candidate responses seen.
6	Examiners must award marks according to the mark scheme and must not award marks with grade thresholds or grade descriptions in mind.

Annotations guidance for centres

Examiners use a system of annotations as a shorthand for communicating their marking decisions to one another. Examiners are trained during the standardisation process on how and when to use annotations. The purpose of annotations is to inform the standardisation and monitoring processes and guide the supervising examiners when they are checking the work of examiners within their team. The meaning of annotations and how they are used is specific to each component and is understood by all examiners who mark the component.

We publish annotations in our mark schemes to help centres understand the annotations they may see on copies of scripts. Note that there may not be a direct correlation between the number of annotations on a script and the mark awarded. Similarly, the use of an annotation may not be an indication of the quality of the response.

The annotations listed below were available to examiners marking this component in this series.

Annotations

Annotation	Meaning
	Optional, to demonstrate a good point or good use of language
	Used to show that blank pages have been seen and any creditworthy material has been awarded
HIGHLIGHTER	Optional, to highlight errors
	Irrelevant

Parts 2 and 3 banded mark scheme

There are a maximum of 15 marks available for each of Question 2/3 and Question 4/5.

The mark scheme should be applied according to a 'best fit' approach. Responses will not necessarily contain all the features of one band. First fit the response into a band and then adjust upwards and downwards in marks as appropriate.

Excellent	13–15 marks	Makes a well-developed and detailed response. • shows a clear understanding of the text and its deeper implications • makes a developed exploration of the way the writer achieves her/his effects (sustaining an appropriate voice in an empathic task) • supports with careful and relevant reference to the text • fully addresses the focus of the question.
Good	10–12 marks	Makes a reasonably developed relevant response. • shows understanding of the text and some of its deeper implications • explores the way the writer uses language (using suitable features of expression in an empathic task) • shows some thoroughness in the use of supporting evidence from the text • addresses the focus of the question.
Satisfactory	7–9 marks	Makes a relevant response. • shows some understanding of meaning • makes some reference to the way the writer uses language (beginning to assume a voice in an empathic task) • uses some supporting textual detail • partly addresses the focus of the question.
Poor	4–6 marks	Attempts to communicate a basic response to the task. • makes some relevant comments • shows a basic understanding of surface meaning of the text (of character in an empathic task) • makes a little supporting reference to the text • makes some attempt to address the question.
Very poor	1–3 marks	Limited attempt to respond. • makes a few straightforward comments • shows a few signs of understanding the surface meaning of the text (of • character in an empathic task) • makes a little reference to the text • little relevance to the question.
