Paper 1: Depth Studies

The assessment requirement was that candidates answer a set of questions from two options from a choice of eight. The most popular options were:

Option 3: Germany: development of dictatorship, 1918-45

Option 6 : A world divided: superpower relations, 1943-72

Option 7: A divided union: civil rights in the USA, 1945-74

and the most popular combination of options was:

Option 3 and 6

Option 3 and 7.

All eight options required candidates to answer three sub-questions on the option topic. Each question had a different focus and tested a range of assessment objectives. Question (a) required candidates to identify the impression given by an author based on a small written extract and tested AO4. Question (b) required candidates to explain two effects and tested AO1 and AO2. Question (ci) and (cii) required candidates explain, analyse and make judgements about key features, events, causes, effects and significance and tested AO1 and AO2.

General comments

Across all eight options the following generic comments in relation to each sub question should be noted:

- In question (a) selecting information to support the impression will limit the answer to marks within level 2, to move into level 3 the answer requires considering of how the impression has been created by considering author selection of evidence, tone, emphasis or omission.
- In question (b) knowledge of the effect is not in itself sufficient, there is a requirement to explain the effect in terms of outcomes.
- In question (c) knowledge needs to be used to develop an answer that considers the issue raised by the question and a criteria-based judgement is made.

Option 3: Germany: development of dictatorship, 1918-45

This option was attempted by many candidates and on the whole was answered well.

In question (a) many candidates were able to identify that the impression given by the author about Stresemann's international polices was that they were not very successful. Candidates who scored marks in level 2 (3-4 marks) were able to support their inference of the impression by selecting examples of language used by the author. Those candidates who moved into level 3 (5-6 marks) also considered the author's treatment, emphasis and selection of material in order to create the impression that was inferred. Some candidates ignored the focus of the question and took it as an opportunity to write what they knew about Stresemann in the 1920s.

In question (b) many candidates were able to explain the effects of the Second World War on the German Home Front. Typically, many focused on bombing campaigns, rationing, women, and the young and the old. All were credit worthy and what differentiated candidates was the accuracy of the information they used (AO1) and the extent of the explanation in relation to the outcome (AO2).

It was not enough for candidates to just describe the effect. It is important for candidates to realise that in this question it is about the effect 'of' something 'on' something.

In question (c) (ci) and (cii) were equally popular. It was noticeable in both questions that many students had in depth knowledge but when coming to a judgement tended to state that something was more important or significant without applying and explaining criteria. Candidates who did secured marks in level 4.

(b) One effect of the Second World War on the Home Front was the introduction of the cationing, which decreased people's life quality. As the now tarted to go badly howards the end, the Nori officials gave less and less food to the people, out to the extent of only 500 grams per day labacco was banned, and soups were hard to find. In East, 45 of German people ate better than before The War. It only got worse as the WWII become worse and transmy had to devote more resources to the war effort. Another effect of the wwill on the Have Front was attied transfer increased women participation in the work force. Before wwll, The Works hanted women to have more babies to strengther the "Aryan race, so women were laid of from the work place and discouraged from usrling However will made it so that the Novis had to rely on women to produce reapons and other resources because men a were sighting the War. Compation of the Ruhr was a reason for the weimer Republics problems in its early yours. However, the Treaty of Versailles was more important become it was the root cause of all the other problems. The weimer Republic was challenged by left in and right might extremist factions too, which was a result of discontent with the Treaty of Versailles

The Ruhr crisis was a reason why the weiwar Republic had problems in the years 1919-23 because it led the economic problems, such as hyper inflation In March 1923, the Weimar government defaulted on the payment of war reparations because they could no longer afford them Under a term in the Treaty of Versailler. the French and Belgian troops invade the Rubi region. Germany's main industrial base, to seize the factories. This caused huge problems to the we'man 2000 Republic because they could no longer collect taxes from the Ruhr. morsening the balance of one payments worse still, the workers in the Ruhr adopted the factics of passive resistance, so the government had to pay extra money to striking workers. As the government had to print more and more money , the value of German continued currency spiralled cut of control and this led to hyperinflation. Many middle-doss Germans lost their

It lost Alsace Lorraine to France, Posen and Dazig to Poland. Schleisweig to Penmark, and Memery to Belgium. Because the treaty did so much damage to the German economy by asting, an top of everything els asking for 5 billion marks of reporations, their termen Weimar Republic was unable to systain a functioning economy to repay these reporations. In question (b) the candidate was able to identify two effects support them with knowledge and show how they led to an outcome and so satisfied fully the requirements of level 3. In question (c) the candidate accessed the top of level 4 as there was analytical explanation, accurate and precisely selected information and a judgement. Criteria for the judgement were offered and justified.

Option 6: A world divided: superpower relations, 1943-72

This option was attempted by many candidates and on the whole was answered well.

In question (a) many candidates were able to identify the impression given by the author in regard to Rakosi's rule. Many inferred that it was harsh, or words to that effect. Many supported this by selecting the author's language, and those who considered the author's selection and lack of balance moved into level 3 (5-6 marks).

In question (b) many candidates had thorough and precise knowledge regarding the ideological differences, but it was those who applied it to 'on relations' that moved into the higher level. Typically candidates who suggested it made relations worse.

In question (c) (cii) was more popular than (ci). In (cii) candidates were well versed in the events of 1945-49 and were able to offer a range of consequences to balance against the division of Europe into two armed camps. In (ci) while candidates were very knowledgeable about the events of the Cuban Missile Crisis, they were less so in relation to events/factors that saw the thaw from 1963. As a consequence, some answers lacked relevance in relation to the question.

Option 7: A divided union: civil rights in the USA, 1945-74

In question (a) many candidates were able to identify the impression given by the author regarding segregation in the South. Many inferred that the impression was that there was strong opposition to it and supported this by selecting words and phrases used by the author.

In question (b) candidates who had precise knowledge were able to explain the effect of the USA of the work of Betty Friedan, but many described what she did, e.g. she wrote a book, and did not relate this to the effect on women's rights in the USA.

In question (c) (ci) proved to be more popular than (cii). Candidates were well versed in the activities of McCarthy, Cold War, Alger Hiss, Hollywood 10 and the Rosenbergs, as well as the broader context of China and Korea with many able to analyse them as causes of anti-communism in the USA and balance against the stated factor in the question. Candidates who answered (ci) either described the scandal and little else, knew little about the news laws and generalised, or realised that this was a consequence and did consider some of the consequences of the Watergate scandal.

After Friedran's book 'The Feminica Mystique' was published in 1963 it created huge publicity becoming a hest seller. The book explored many themas at principly and the roles of woman in society. Some say this visplined Second Wane Feminism in the USA, meaning that women in the USA left empowered after neading it and left that they too could create and monitor change for women's rights in the United States. As a negal, many groups whethe NOW and the WIM were fried which allowed the membership of the grow movement to grow successfully, evening De Jine and De Facto change Overall Betty Friedman can be seen as a cotalyset for the women's rights movement as she inspired the available of groups like NOW and WIM This had an important and clear effect an the movement.

Another effect of Betty Friedman on the women's movement was the publicity she created for the women. In the late six ries and early sevening there was little to no movement against the patriorchy, women felt as if they didn't have the voice to speak up. However, Friedman blew this completely one with the publishing of her book which explored that had subjects revolved in the movement and challeged the rate of a women in society. As a result, Friedman almost persone a spotesperson for the movement as men because away of the impact. The partiorchy when no our ease would, this eneated massive publicity in the early days of the movement. Therefore, it is clear that

((b) continued) Betty Friedran and her ideas allowed for publicity of the little known movement many through the success of her book

(c)(i) OR (c)(ii) The man reason why auti-communian grew infaturen 1945-SU was a result at Senator Joseph McCarthy have are other less significant factors to consider like Hiss+ Rosenterg cases, Hand Hild C. These factors will be judged by the Criteria relatability breadth at impact and swerily of impact

The Hiss and Rosen dang cases were on important factor in the growth at auti-communism, talken the thiss was a highly individual in the government at the time of the experience, he often represented in the USA in class with he soviet union and the UK just after the wor, attending events like Pattsdam. As a result, many citizens when him. However, when he was neveraled to be a spy for the commanists many whizers of the United Steeles were shocked and confused Rey could not believe that communeron had intelligated such a high luck at government. This made the case very relevable to Americans as this was not like the Cold war which was four from home, instead it was was clear that communism had intelled their notion Furthernore, with the exposure of Lu Rosenbergs who also were communist spies it necessed the livel of mass hypleria and fear in the United States as interes soon began to realise that commiseen had extend their daily lines. However, this tactor is not the most significant as it didn't quite have the breaeth and chole held that Moarthy is m had a the nothin Overall, the cases proved that communion was lunching dozen and becoming more relatable in the lies of Americans

((c)(i) OR (c)(ii) continued) The legist significant tactor at anti-communism growing was the Cold War. That is The Cold War was happening in proxy nations like k once and in countries in Europe A+ te+ino, The world was not globalised so trese notions after felt to sign or unknown to the average cotizen - the restability of the cold won was not as parentell as other factors as it would only neally affect you it going touchy was involved. Furthermore, the cold wor was not as widely publicised as things whe Benator Manthy's hearings or the Algar this case. Communism did not seen Who a clear threat to Americans cet the time. Furthermore, the ladd wor dell not have a direct affect on Americans, they were lighting proxywar agained un-known regions at to world, and most Americans Lelt as if they were winning through propaganda. Overall, the Cold War was a distant flicter of a threat that communism posed, Americans we fer more scared of closer and popular events We be sended McCathy's havings or the espionage cases

The most important tactor in the spread at anti-communism was very clerly the effect of Senator McCarthy. Senator McCarthy was a senator for Wis consin ton the during the late L10's and certy 50's. He was heavily onti-communist and denounced them publicly tequently. However, it was his live hearings that held America in an anti-communist chockehold. Senator McCarthy's hearings also saw him berate and abuse inno cert people, forcing them into saying they were communist in trout of as much as Zo million people. Senator McCarthy had a large viewing every line

((c)(i) OR (c)(ii) continued) he held a hearing. This meant he had a large Influence on the people of America, great than both previous fuctors. McCorthy also made the threat of communism seem more relatable transer ever, accusing people like Typlings at communism As a result, McCorthy single handedly spread the belief that communism had intilhated the American government to millions at people. Pessite his downfull in the Army McCorthy hearings, McCorthy still had a severe and broad impact on the United states Making him the most important fuctor at all.

In conclusion, Senator McCarthy both had a severe impact on the lines of many publicions while dro making the threat of communion seem real and relatable to millions at people. While the espionage cases did move to make the threat seem real, they didn't effect as many people as McCarthy diel. Finally, The lod War had a minor effect on the speed at anti-communion as it was treign and not relatable. Therefore, McCarthy had the greatest impact on the growth of Anti-communism.

The answer for question (a) saw the candidate identify an impression and support it with detail from the extract and consider emphasis and selection and achieve a top level 3 mark. In question (b) the candidate was able to identify two effects support them with knowledge and show how they led to an outcome and so satisfied fully the requirements of level 3. In question (c) the candidate accessed the top of level 4 as there was analytical explanation, accurate and precisely selected information and a judgement. Criteria for the judgement were offered and justified.
