Critical Thinking in Philosophy

Question 1

(You should answer all parts, (a–i), of this question).

- (a) Explain the difference between a statement and an argument. Support your answer with a clear example of each. 3 KU
- (b) Which of the following is not an essential feature of any argument?
- (1) A conclusion that is true if the premises are true
 - (2) A conclusion that is intended to follow from the premises
 - (3) At least one premise that is intended as support for the conclusion
 - (4) The intention that the premise or premises imply the conclusion
- 1 KU

Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow.

Really, it's quite simple. Pirate Jack cannot have stolen the treasure, for if he had stolen it he would still have had some of it with him when he landed at Paradise Cove. I know Toothless Mary said that she had seen Jack that morning coming out of the cave where the treasure had been hidden, but everyone knows Mary is a "nasty piece of work". Apart from Mary, no one else came forward to say anything against him. Besides, Jack was no thief. Sure he was a bit of a rogue but that's why people liked him so much.

- (c) What is the conclusion of this argument? 1 AE
- (d) Identify three premises in this argument. 3 AE
- (e) Suggest one hidden premise that might be at work in this argument and explain its role in the argument. 2 AE
- (f) What is meant by the fallacy of "attacking the person"? Support your answer with an appropriate example of your own. 3 KU
- (g) From the passage above, identify a fallacy of "attacking the person". 2 AE
- (h) What is meant by a circular argument? Support your answer with an appropriate example of your own. 3 KU
- (i) Discuss whether or not the passage above contains a circular argument. 2 AE
